K-12 EDUCATOR
WORKSHOPS

Día de los Muertos and Cultural Literacy

ABOUT Join us for an evening of free professional development for all K-12 educators: in-service and pre-service teachers, educational aides, administrators, and librarians.

We will focus on the celebration of Día de los Muertos. Using culturally relevant resources, participants will learn how to integrate Día de los Muertos into their classrooms through art and literacy based activities that explore the history and practices associated with this tradition.

Día de los Muertos is an important celebration in Mexico and other parts of Latin America that dates back to the Aztec Empire, before the arrival and conquest of the Spanish. In recent decades, it also has become increasingly celebrated in US cities. Oftentimes in the US, Día de los Muertos is misunderstood as a variation of Halloween, but it is a very different celebration. It is a time during which families remember and honor their loved ones who have died. Death is celebrated as a natural and normal part of life. It is believed that during Día de los Muertos, the spirits of those who have passed away return to visit their family and loved ones who are still alive. Families and communities create altars filled with brightly colored flowers, papel picado, sugar skulls, pictures of the deceased, and favorite foods. Cemeteries are cleaned and decorated. All of this is done as a way of inviting the spirits of our loved ones back to visit with us for one day out of the year.

Certificates of professional development will be given and dinner will be provided.

SPONSORS This workshop is organized by the UNM Latin American and Iberian Institute in collaboration with the Instituto Cervantes of Albuquerque, National Hispanic Cultural Center, Spanish Resource Center of Albuquerque, and UNM Art Museum.
