The UNM Latin American & Iberian Institute announces its call for applications for

FOREIGN LANGUAGE & AREA STUDIES (FLAS) FELLOWSHIPS

APPLICATION DEADLINE:
FEBRUARY 8, 2016

A HELP & INFORMATION SESSION will be held at the LAII on Wednesday, December 2, 2015, at 12:00 noon. All first-time applicants are encouraged to attend.

FLAS FELLOWSHIPS PROMOTE THE STUDY OF LESS-COMMONLY-TAUGHT LANGUAGES.

Academic year fellowships provide tuition and fees, plus a stipend ($15,000 for graduate students; $5,000 for undergraduate students). Recipients of academic year FLAS Fellowships are required to take courses at UNM in K’iche’ Maya, Brazilian Portuguese, or Quechua, as well as Latin American area studies courses.

Summer fellowships provide the majority of program fees for intensive study of a less-commonly-taught Latin American language at a FLAS-eligible program in the US or Latin America. Such languages include Brazilian Portuguese, K’iche’ Maya, or Quechua, as well as other indigenous languages.

Additional restrictions apply. For more information, email commlaii@unm.edu, or visit the LAII online: http://laii.unm.edu/funding

Visit us online at http://laii.unm.edu or find “UNMLAI” on [Facebook](https://www.facebook.com/unm LATIN AMERICAN & IBERIAN INSTITUTE) LinkedIn YouTube