

Latin American & Iberian Institute
PhD Fellows Colloquium

FRIDAY APRIL 1st 2022 • 3:30 PM
LATIN AMERICAN & IBERIAN
INSTITUTE

Join us for the Latin American & Iberian Institute's annual LAII PhD Fellows Colloquium, an afternoon of presentations highlighting the work of exceptional doctoral students across campus whose research and writing explore important topics in Latin Americanist scholarship. This year the format will be informal mini presentations by the Fellows on their research or on the topic of dissertating during the pandemic.

Join Zoom Meeting:

<https://unm.zoom.us/j/94420041479>

Meeting ID:

944 2004 1479

Caitlin Ainsworth // Anthropology

Bird Management at the Margins: A Case Study from Paquimé, Chihuahua, Mexico

Minea Armijo // LLSS

Experiences of Purépecha Transnational Students in an Indigenous Intercultural Secondary Program in Santa Fe de la Laguna, Michoacán, México.

Javier Astorga // LAS

Deconstructing the Presidio-Complex: A Genealogy of the Colonial Coercive Space in the Spanish Imperial Borderland.

Anna Calasanti // Political Science

Is it Enough? The Influence of Property Ownership on Women's Empowerment

Carlos Contreras-Vidal // Political Science

Institutional Responses to Sexual Assault and Harassment in Mexican Universities

Carlos Ibarra // Spanish and Portuguese

Bilingual and trilingual Mixtecos in Woodburn, Oregon: Intergenerational linguistic identity, attitudes, usage, and language preservation

David Paez // Linguistics

Imitative expression in Colombian Spanish