

UNM

Latin American & Iberian Institute

Richard E. Greenleaf Visiting Library Scholar Program

Call for Applications

RICHARD E. GREENLEAF VISITING LIBRARY SCHOLAR PROGRAM, 2022-2023

The Latin American and Iberian Institute (LAI) and the University Libraries (UL) Latin American Collections at the University of New Mexico are pleased to invite applications for the Richard E. Greenleaf Visiting Library Scholar Program for 2022-2023.

The deadline for applications is Friday, March 31, 2023 at 5:00 pm.

The Richard E. Greenleaf Visiting Library Scholar award provides individuals the opportunity to work as visiting researchers with the University of New Mexico's Latin American or U.S. Southwest library collections, one of the largest and most complete Latin American or Spanish American collections in the country. International and independent scholars and artists, as well as junior faculty and graduate students at US institutions who specialize in Latin America and Iberia are invited to apply. For applicants from the US, special consideration will be given to those based at Minority Serving Institutions. The award honors Dr. Richard E. Greenleaf, distinguished scholar of colonial Latin American history, and his extensive career in teaching, research, and service.

Recipients of the Richard E. Greenleaf Visiting Library Scholar award will work to promote scholarly or creative use of the Latin American and Iberian collections, focusing on objectives with specific relevance to special collections in the UNM Libraries.

The LAI will award up to $10,000 in some combination of long-term (minimum six weeks) and short-term (minimum two weeks) awards. Short-term awards are limited to $2,500, with the exception that the awards committee may consider higher amounts for short-term award applicants who would be traveling from abroad. The award is intended to cover round-trip travel plus local living expenses (lodging, meals, ground transportation and incidentals) capped at $160/day for short-term stays and $140/day for long-term stays. Proposed research may be conducted any time between June 1, 2023 and July 31, 2024. Recipients will be selected based on the relevance of the proposal to the unique holdings of UNM University Libraries, the merits and significance of the project, and the applicant's scholarly qualifications.

This link, <https://elibrary.unm.edu/cswr/>, enables prospective applicants to browse all of UNM's Special Collections while this link, <https://econtent.unm.edu/digital/> allows applicants to browse UNM's digital collections. Latin American special collections are summarized at: https://libguides.unm.edu/Special_LatinAmerican_Collections. The following link leads to UNM Library Research guides by subject: <https://libguides.unm.edu/?b=s>.

For applications and further information please visit the LAI website:

<http://laii.unm.edu/funding/greenleaf-visiting-library-scholar-funding.html>

Questions may be directed to the LAI Unit Administrator at Laiibusiness@unm.edu.